ANNUALS

Judge: Professor E. W. Withers

The Journalism Foundation

Washington-Lee University

Lexington, Virginia

Group III. McChalva. McIntire High School, Charlottesville.

In Group III McChalva tends to overwhelm all others by its size and its thorough coverage. It is ambitious, but I believe its abilities justify its ambition.

The cover is a plain, serviceable, and unusually handsome one; the title page is not too happy a combination of hand-lettering and type; the two-page drawing of the school makes an attractive layout. Faculty pages are poorly trimmed and on one the cuts are unevenly arranged. The table of contents comes at an unusual place, it seems to me. Captions would have aided the page of senior snapshots which, with the senior-play page, is a good idea. Good but uninspired coverage is given to clubs and activities by picture and copy. Congratulations on your page of "A Year's Achievements." I believe no other annual publishes this same information. Some pictures are too inferior to the general average of those in the book to have been included, but this may have been due to bad engravings. I like the wide variation of type faces and sizes in the advertising section.

An excellent and effective yearbook which somehow seems as if it should have been a little better than it is.

Introduction

We have just passed through a year in which our country was changing from the strict regulation of war time to post-war peacetime. The leaders of the world have been trying to make the peace secure and long lasting for future generations.

Several "post-war" changes have been seen in our schools. The boys who left us to go to fight have come back to finish school, and go to college. We sent delegates to the first State Student Cooperative Association convention since the war. We entered the literary contests, track meets, the District Basketball Tournament, and the Music Festival

We, of the staff, are presenting you these pages in hopes that they will help you to recall old friends, and relive the old scenes at McIntire.

Dedication

We, the Senior Class of 1947, feel that it is a privilege to dedicate this, the fifth MCCHALVA, to Miss Cora Hughes Anderson, the first grade teacher.

Our primary teachers were the people who started us off on the road of education. We wish to express our appreciation to these teachers for starting us off, and maybe giving us a little push when we were slow.

Class History

In September, 1943, the freshmen of McIntire High School walked merrily up the gangplank of their ship and set sail on the sea of Knowledge.

Since this was our first voyage we were very eager to learn something about our destination, but the officers would tell us only that we would gain exactly what we put into it. Most of us were eager to find out how long our journey would take and our captain told us it would take four years, or more if we didn't work hard to become good sailors. We were a large crew and we all had great ambitions, but the captain told us of the many barriers and informed us that the seas might be very rough so we all settled down and worked to help make our voyage run smoothly.

We took up our anchor and set sail on seas that were just a little rougher. By now most of us were accustomed to this sea of knowledge, but twelve of our little sailors had become seasick so we left them behind. We were not discouraged because while at anchor we managed to gain several new sailors and we were all busy helping them to become accustomed to boat life.

Our ship, being a modern ship, was equipped with all kinds of athletic equipment and we also had a huge library. So quite a few of our sailors went out for basketball, baseball, and boxing, while others of the quieter nature worked with prose and poetry reading, public speaking and debating. And so our second voyage was happily ended.

In September 1945 we again took up our anchor and by now we felt that we were old, experienced sailors. We worked hard to keep our boat in good condition. On this voyage we spent even more time in the library and with our sports. In the course of this voyage we dropped anchor at Charlottesville and engaged a truck full of hay. Then we all climbed aboard and rood merrily to "Sugar Hollow" where we spent an enjoyable evening. At last we had finished our third voyage and without any shipwrecks.

We began our fourth voyage sadly for we realized that this would be the last time that we would sail with many of our crew. We had left some of our crew behind us. One of them had entered the sea of matrimony. On this voyage we had many new things to think about. First we decided to go dramatic so we all went to work and produced a play called "Strictly Formal". Next we donned our formal attire and gave a formal dance. As usual many of our crew were busy with prose and poetry reading, debating and public speaking. Others were practicing basketball, baseball, and all the other sports and worrying whether the red team or the blue team would win. This time many of the crew attended a music festival.

At last we have finished our course and now we will sail on new uncharted seas. We look ahead to new and untried waters for "TONIGHT WE SAIL, WHERE SHALL WE ANCHOR?"

—MARY ANNE DOUGLASS.

Senior Class Will

We, the Senior Class of McIntire High School, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred forty-seven, being of sound body and supposedly sound mind do ordain, establish, and declare this to be our last will and testament, revoking all other wills made by us at any time previously.

ITEM: To the school as a whole we leave our best wishes, unending success, three months' vacation, and the picket fence.

ITEM: To the Class of '48 we leave the Senior privileges along with Room 14 and Sea Admiral and the hope that they will make better use of the dignity that was left to us.

ITEM: To the faculty as a whole we leave the hope for less crowded classes and more intelligent students.

ITEM: To Mr. Allen we leave our very best wishes and more intelligent plane geometry classes in the future.

ITEM: To Miss Morris we leave more time to get things straightened out in the morning before class time rolls 'round and our deepest gratitude for her guidance during the year.

ITEM: To Mrs. Houston we leave the hope that never again will she have to remind History IV and Economics classes that chewing gum is forbidden in class.

ITEM: To Miss Peak we leave more feminine solid geometry classes and more orderly English IV classes.

ITEM: To Mrs. Matthews we leave a new piano and a more cooperative Glee Club.

ITEM: To Mr. Estes we leave a championship basketball team and a new office.

ITEM: To Mr. Berkeley we leave the hope that he won't have to remind people not to run in the hall so much.

ITEM: To Mrs. Fray we leave continuing success for her Arts and Crafts Club.

ITEM: To Miss Holsinger we leave more serious seventh grades and the hope that she will have a girls' physical education class in the future.

ITEM: To Mrs. Adams we leave a nice, quiet library without study hall pupils and with people who will return books promptly on the date due.

We, the Senior Class, wish to leave behind the following personal traits and habits to the individuals of the rising senior class.

ITEM: Rosie Pitman leaves her ability to get along with one boy for a long time to Joan Hargard.

ITEM: Dick Alwood leaves his voice to "B" Downer, and Bus 21 to Franklin Fitzgerald.

- ITEM: Jo Campbell wills her love for classical music to Mary Marrs, and Katherine Guij and her cute pug nose to Mary Jane Lewis.*
- ITEM: Pete Coleman leaves his looks and attendance record to Dicky Scott.*
- ITEM: Joyce Watkins wills her like for Fords and her sweet nature to Barbara Odend'hal.*
- ITEM: Kar Hausen wills his scientific interests to Bobby Butler.*
- ITEM: Arthur Harris leaves his straight A report cards to Robert Seiler.*
- ITEM: Marion Dowell leaves his talkative nature to Lyndall Pugh.*

- ITEM: Iris Dowell leaves her chubbiness to Marion Walters.*
- ITEM: Robert Glassgo wills his fancy bow ties to Clyde Hunt.*
- ITEM: Anna Harlow leaves her love for chewing gum to Jane Harris.*
- ITEM: Lina Jackson wills her many engagement rings to Dorothy Dunn.*
- ITEM: Leonard Taylor leaves his friendly nature to Thelma Smith and his love for the farm to Elsie Underwood.*

We the undersigned acting as witnesses for this, the Last Will and Testament of the Class of '47, do hereby declare that this instrument was signed in our presence on this, the thirty-first day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred forty-seven, and that we affixed our signatures in the presence of the Senior Class and of each other.

—JO CAMPBELL,
DICK ALWOOD.

Class Prophecy

My! It is good to be back to McIntire. The scene of my many trials and tribulations. But is this McIntire? Oh yes. I recognize it now. Here is a paper lying on the lawn, something not allowed in my day. Why it is the "Daily Progress" and here is someone I know.

THE DAILY PROGRESS 1957

WORLD'S LARGEST UNCUT DIAMOND

Mr. Marion Dowell, owner of the "Sparkling" Jewelry Store of this city, recently received the largest uncut diamond ever discovered. Mr. Dowell has not decided what it will be used for as yet.

SOUTH POLE EXPEDITION

Professor Arthur Harris and his colleagues of the University of Virginia have organized an expedition to the South Pole in search of a meteorite. They are planning to make scientific tests with the dust.

U. N. REPRESENTATIVE TO LEAVE SOON

Robert Glassgo leaves Charlottesville this week-end to join the U. N. meeting in London, England. Mr. Glassgo is finishing his vacation at home.

FLASH!

The American Airliner "Unknown Destiny" went down yesterday in the Rocky Mountains due to engine trouble. Had it not been for the quick wits of Airline Hostess Rebecca Dowell many people might have perished. The pilot, William Spicer, also escaped injury.

NEW DRUG FROM CORN

Mr. Leonard Taylor, head of the Agriculture Board of Virginia, is leaving for England next week to get information on a new drug used in increasing the value of the corn crop.

PRIZE WINNER OF ART CONTEST

The first prize of the "Artistic Ability Contest" went to Steve Fox for his portrait "Madonna's Secret". The prize, a gold statue of Leonardo da Vinci, was presented to Mr. Fox by the president of the National Art Society.

F. B. I. AT WORK

Mr. Ronald Coleman, famous F.B.I. agent, captured the leader of the gang who had led all the delinquents into crime.

INVENTOR ARRIVES

Robert Conley, who has recently invented a gadget that fills grocery bags, has arrived from Moscow. Mr. Conley explained the new invention to the government of Russia.

GENTRY FAVORED

At Madison Square Gardens tonight Robert Gentry will meet Jake Rash in the Welterweight class. This bout will determine the champion Welterweight of the East.

ANOTHER GERM

From the University Hospital comes the news that Nurse Barbara Thayer has found the germ that causes cancer.

GOING DOWN

From Main Street yesterday came an occurrence that brought the fire engines and police to the rescue. It was only Phil Everett who fell from the marquee of the Paramount theater when the scaffold broke. He only received a twisted ankle but was taken to the hospital for examination. James Garrett who was helping at the time managed to save himself from a fall.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Alwood returned from their two-year visit to Africa today. Mr. Alwood, a surveyor, brought back the largest catch in many years. Mrs. Alwood, the former Miss Josephine Campbell of this city, does not plan to go back to Africa again soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Long returned from a visit to Mexico this week. Mr. Long, foreign minister to Mexico, and his wife were entertained by the President of Mexico. Mrs. Long, the former Joyce Watkins of this city, was quoted as saying that Mexico was all right but she liked the United States best.

Mrs. Donald Bruntor, the former Miss Rosalie Pitman, is giving a party at the Monticello Hotel. Why is it everyone flocks to one of Rosie's parties? She must have a magic touch?

Miss Mary Ann Douglass while visiting in England announced her coming marriage to the Prince of Wales. Miss Douglass plans to spend her honeymoon in America. She and her husband will then return to England to live.

The owner of the Leggett's Department Store, Miss Iris Dowell, has told us that the styles in women's dresses will be changing more and more in the coming years.

At the Stenographers' meeting this week in Hollywood, Tom Brenneman presented an orchid to the three leading stenographers of the year, Miss Christine White, Miss Audrey Toms, and Miss Mary Roark. These are the first orchids Tom Brenneman had given since he closed his famous restaurant.

Lina Jackson, the perfect stenographer, was one of those lucky girls who married her boss. Miss Jackson and her husband are leaving to go to Miami for their honeymoon this afternoon.

Miss Mary Louise Pace is leaving this afternoon with her parents and fiance for a sightseeing trip through Europe.

Miss Dorothy Danner was chosen "Miss America of 1957." Miss Danner will be given a trip to New York and Hollywood.

Miss Anna Harlow, famous Powers model, has decided to marry her old hometown sweetheart but reporters are at a loss for the one she means. Most packages and letters are signed "George." Could he be the lucky man?

Movie Actress Iris Marrs, who starred in "Will She or Won't She", will speak to the Charlottesville Women's Club this afternoon. Miss Marrs' latest picture is "Why Not".

Modest Page Mann, who does not think himself an actor, is appearing this week in "Disconnected Skys", a comedy written by Frances Payne, one of the leading writers of today.

Kar Hansen, a renowned silversmith, while giving his views on people and affairs on the "Didn't We Say So" program last week, said that times may change, but he always expects to get the proverbial necktie for Christmas.

Mr. Claude Powell is building a space ship he believes will take us to the moon and Mars. The trip will take place as soon as the ship is completed.

I hope these friends of ours will have the happy successful lives they deserve.

—JANE HARRIS.

Center: Iris Dowell.

"Strictly Formal", a comedy in three acts written by William Davidson and directed by Miss Morris was a very successful production.

This hilarious comedy kept the entire audience thrilled and in suspense during the production.

The story of the play is very realistic. The ultimate aim of each girl in the cast was to persuade any high school boy to ask her to the Junior-Senior dance.

Vice-President	. . . . .	EDWARD LEFTWICH
Secretary	. . . . .	ARTHUR HARRIS
Sponsor	. . . . .	MR. ALLEN

The purpose of the Student Council is to create and maintain a better understanding between the students and faculty.

During the year of 1946-1947 the Student Council has been trying to solve problems that occur among the pupils. The Student Council sent Edward Leftwich, Nellie Rhodes, Josephine Campbell, and Barbara Thayer to Richmond for the Student Cooperative Association meeting last fall. They suggested ways to improve attendance, buildings and grounds, recreational facilities, and school and community safety.

There has been a Building and Grounds Committee established by the Student Council. The Student Council has also been concerned about the attendance record of the school.

The publications club was organized last year to create writing ability among the students and to develop other printing interests of the members.

The two projects of the publications club were to publish a monthly paper and an annual handbook. The handbook was published this year for the first time in the school's history. The purpose of the handbook is to educate the students and parents regarding the operation of the McIntire School.

This year there are about twenty-one boys enrolled in the club, and with the aid of our sponsor, Mr. Brumback, we have had a fine club, in fact, one of the best ever at McIntire.

During the past year the McIntire Boys' Club has been one of the most active clubs in the county, having had representatives at practically all the Fat Cattle Shows, at the Orange Fat Pig Show, and at almost all of the Judging Contests.

The Girls' Hi-Y Club got off to a good start this year by sending two girls, Barbara Odend'hal and Joan Haggard, to our State Conference in Harrisonburg. At Thanksgiving and Christmas we again sponsored the food drives, and we also presented a play at Thanksgiving entitled, "Let Us Give Thanks". How we worked to get those programs ready!

Then, in January we began to think of our spring banquet. We prepared a buffet supper at Monticello Dairy one Saturday night to plan for it. (The meal was only an hour late.)

Finally April 19th arrived and we shall never forget those umbrellas and our "Rainbow Banquet".

We haven't even mentioned going Christmas caroling, attending church in a body, cleaning the clinic, spring conference, but then, Hi-Y has been chock full of good times and efforts to live up to our motto.

The club has been somewhat handicapped this year due to its small size and the fact that several members belonged to other organizations that met at the same period.

In spite of this, a few worthwhile things were accomplished. The activities included, among other things, the reading of prose and poetry, the writing of poems, the making of speeches, and the presenting of a play at the assembly period.

It is hoped that the club will be larger next year and will be able to accomplish more.

The McIntire Science Club is a member of Science Clubs of America, sponsored by Science Service. Each club is permitted complete freedom in choosing its own program, but is supplied with advice and information by Science Service.

Our club has followed a rather broad type of program this year. Each member has been encouraged to choose an individual project. The program of the weekly meetings has included such things as: The Use of a Microscope, A Report on Rubber, The Life and Work of Thomas A. Edison, The Life and Work of Alexander Graham Bell, and The Principle of Motion Picture Projection.

During the week of February eleventh, the club observed the one hundredth anniversary of Edison's birth by distributing Edison posters to various school rooms.

BUILDING AND GROUNDS COMMITTEE

This committee was organized in the school year 1946-47 at the request of the Student Council. It consists of homeroom committees of three members, one of whom acts as chairman and represents the room on the school committee.

The purpose of this organization is to study the conditions of the building and grounds which seem to be in need of improvement and to make recommendations to the principal and the Student Council as to steps which might be taken to bring about such improvements. Its further purpose is to take any action that it can itself to help bring about needed improvement in the appearance and conditions of the building and grounds and to stimulate interest among the student body in making the school more attractive.

MISS MORRIS

Although we lost the County Champion title and District Championship the team has been very successful as a whole. We entered the District Tournament but lost out in the semi-finals by three points.

We played winter basketball this year for the first time and we have thoroughly enjoyed it.

We are looking forward to an even more successful year next year.

Manager . . . . .	RICHARD SCOTT
Coach . . . . .	MR. ESTES

The team did not make too good a showing as far as high scoring was concerned. It was said, however, that the boys displayed excellent sportsmanship and good cooperation in all the games. The high scorers for the season were Richard Alwood and Franklin Fitzgerald.

Richard Alwood is the only player that will graduate this semester, therefore we're anticipating a most successful season next year.

Acknowledgment

We, of the McCHALVA staff, wish to thank all those persons who helped prepare this annual for publication.

We want to thank the business firms of Charlottesville for their wholehearted cooperation. We especially want to thank Thompson's studio of Richmond for the pictures, and Jarman's for printing the annual. Most of all we want to thank Miss Morris and Miss Peak for their advice and help on the annual.
